MARY PICKFORD DRAWS CROWDS TO POPULAR DESPITE BAD WEATHER

Mary Pickford has won the hearts of Honoluluans, the proof being in the crowd that packed the Popular theater Saturday night, despite the inclement weather to witness her favorite in one of her latest successes, "The Eagle's Mate."

A romance of the moonshiner and revenue man, in the fastnesses of the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, "The Eagle's Mate" pictures an epoch that is rapidly becoming history, and pictures it with the usual faithfulness of the Famous Players Film Co. Mary Pickford, as Anemone Breckenridge, is abducted by the hardy mountaineers, two of whom would have her for wife, whether or not she is willing. She hates them both and tells them so. In characteristic Pickfordesque style. Finally, however, she capitulates to one of them, falls in love with her husband after they are married and saves the moonshiners from a revenue raid that has been arranged by her unsuccessful lover who turns traitor to his clan.

From the fact that the moonshiner's family has its habitat on the peak of an almost inaccessible crag, its members are known as "Eagles," and the comparison is not overdrawn. In this offering there is but a single complaint to be registered by the admirers of "America's Little Sweetheart," and that is the fact that she is not on every action. The supporting cast is composed of Famous Player stars, which is sufficient guarantee of its ability.

In the "Perils of Pauline" the heroine becomes the angel for a moving picture outfit and actually becomes an actress in the film. Pearl White, ever a clever and popular film actress, does better work in this episode than in any of the previous ones. Incidentally the pair of films is much more interesting than several that have previously been offered.

In the Pathe Weekly a number of Honolulu favorites are shown, especially in the ball game in which the Boston Braves clinched the pennant at a loss of $25,000.

PROMOTION DAY TO BE HELD BY LOCAL CHAMBER

With the appointment by Chairman Emil A. Berndt of committees to handle the several features, the members of the Promotion Committee at a meeting held recently laid the initial plans in preparation for Promotion Day which is to be held by the Chamber of Commerce early in January. The announcement of this event was received with enthusiasm by the promotionists, and each committee member displayed a willingness to aid in making this get-together occasion a success.

The date of the meeting has not as yet been definitely set, but it has been announced for early next month. At the meeting the Promotion Committee will present its budget for the coming year, and, through the medium of papers and addresses, inform the members of the Chamber of Commerce what it has accomplished during the past 12 months in the way of advertising the Hawaiian Islands, and what its plans are for the coming year.

Chairman Berndt appointed Ed. Towse as a committee of one to handle the publicity end of Promotion Day and, at the next meeting, subjects for papers or addresses probably will be assigned the various members. A permanent finance committee, which will handle affairs having to do with the budget, was appointed, consisting of Zeno K. Myers, chairman; J. D. McInerney and John Effinger. This committee, announced Chairman Berndt, will be a permanent organization, although its personnel may change from year to year.

As a result of Promotion Day, it was pointed out, the members of the Chamber of Commerce will be given a keener insight into the workings of the Promotion Committee and just what it is, and has been, accomplishing. In return, the chamber members may be able to offer suggestions toward broadening and improving the work of the committee.

KITCHENER SAYS INTERVIEW FALSE; COBB SAYS TRUE

[By Latest Mail] LONDON, England.—The Press Association announces that it has been officially informed with reference to an interview purporting to have been had by Irvin S. Cobb with Lord Kitchener, which was printed in the United States, cabled to London and published here today, "that the language is not that of Lord Kitchener, and that his lordship's official representative expresses surprise that it should have been regarded possible that Lord Kitchener used such expressions."

The Official Press Bureau tonight issued the following statement on the subject: "With reference to a so-called interview with Mr. Cobb: Although Lord Kitchener saw Mr. Cobb a few minutes on October 21, nothing in the nature of a special interview was granted and the remarks attributed to the secretary of state for war are imaginary."

Cobb Says Interview O. K. NEW YORK.—The interview referred to above was printed by the Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia and was widely copied by newspapers throughout the country.

Mr. Cobb makes this statement: "By arrangement of a third person of prominence in England, I did see Lord Kitchener on October 21 for about forty minutes. I used no pencil and paper during the conversation, following the custom of interviewers. I afterwards reproduced the conversation with Lord Kitchener as exactly as I could."

"I did not deliberately or wilfully misrepresent him, and I am quite positive that I caught his meaning, and as nearly as possible the text of what he said, and I am sure that I quoted him correctly."

"I have had some experience as an interviewer and I have a fairly good memory."

The annual reunion of the alumnae of the Kamehameha school will be held at the girls' school tomorrow afternoon, at which time there will be several addresses delivered and a program rendered which will include the planting of memorial trees in front of the senior hall. The speakers will be W. O. Smith and Rev. W. B. Oleson. Those graduates of Kamehameha who will take part in the program are Mrs. Hans Gittel, '97; Miss Ahoi, '97; Mrs. Charles Hall, '05; Miss Mabel Wilcox, '12, and Miss Phoebe Wilcox.
